Nashik (Maha), Oct 24 (PTI) Maharashtra Governor Ch Vidyasagar Rao today inaugurated the 19th 'World Peace Conference' here.

"Main aim of the education institutes is to strengthen people to search truth and utilise education for development of the society," Rao said.

The conference is organised jointly by city-based Gokhale Education Society (GES) and International Association of Educators for World Peace.

The Governor lauded the role of GES for its good work towards Adivasi welfare by providing higher education.

Rao assured support to the work done by GES in Palghar district to weed out malnutrition from the region.

The Governor also presented the 'Dr M S Gosavi Excellence Award' to noted scientist Anil Kakodkar.

Former University Grants Commission chairperson Arun Nigavekar and others were present on the occasion.
